

VALENTINO

Founded in 1960 by Valentino Garavani and Giancarlo Giammetti, Valentino S.p.A. is a protagonist of international fashion, and from 2008 until 2016, has gone through an impactful creative evolution. After 8 years of Creative Co-Direction of Maria Grazia Chiuri and Pierpaolo Piccioli, in 2016 Valentino nominates Pierpaolo Piccioli sole Creative Director of the Maison. The Maison Valentino plays a major role in the luxury division through tradition and innovation, a necessary combination for a creative industry that generates the sense of beauty.

Valentino S.p.A. is controlled since 2012 by Mayhoola for Investments S.P.C., a holding company sustained by a group of private investors from Qatar. The acquisition has brought a rapid growth in the potential of the Valentino brand. Valentino's fashion is displayed through the Haute Couture and Prêt-à-Porter lines for women and for men and through the Valentino Garavani accessories lines that include shoes, bags, small leather goods, eyewear, scarves, ties and fragrances. At the distribution level, Valentino is present in over 90 countries through almost than 150 directly operated boutiques and over 1300 points of sale.

Position: Stock Keeper

We are currently seeking a highly motivated Stock Keeper who will support operatively the store, with a particular focus on the back-of-house and on the operational policies/procedures.

We value results and commercial-oriented individuals who have willingness to learn, always up-to-date on fashion trends and with strong passion for our Brand and our Product.

This is an exciting opportunity for those who are seeking to develop their career in a luxury retail environment.

Responsibilities will include:

- Ensure paperwork efficiency and process of shipment and transfers, while following up on discrepancies
- Monitor the correct rotation of goods and constantly ensure all the necessary measures for the safety of valuable products, materials and furnishings
- Guarantee after-sales services following company standards and that all stockroom guidelines are rigidly followed
- Register the goods into the IT System and ensure that all transport documents are rightly filed

Qualifications:

- Previous experience in the role
- Excellent interpersonal and effective communication skills
- Be a team player with a pro-active attitude
- High fashion knowledge
- Ability to adapt to changing need of the Company as necessary
- Fluency in German and English is essential

Please send your application to: lisa.fehrer@valentino.com